

Issue with elements-total-count value

Last Modified on 11/18/2021 6:29 am EST

To get information on the total number of records in the `/incidents` endpoint, you cannot rely on the `elements-total-count` as Zendesk does not guarantee the accuracy of this field.

It is recommended that you use the `elements-next-page-token` to get the information where the API call can be iterated "n" number of times till an empty response is received.
